MODDER RIVER A WATERLOO

For the English--Their Loss Was Fearful.

REINFORCEMENTS CALLED FOR

By The British General Methuen. Much Apprehension Felt at London.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Dec. 1—Methuen's urgent call for heavy reinforcements right upon the heels of the report of the battle of Modder River has convinced even the most optimistic experts that three hard fights have so depleted his ranks that it is impossible to push ahead without reinforcements. It is deemed significant that Methuen did not claim victory. This, with the fact that no list of casualties has been sent, causes widespread anxiety.

BRITISH LOSE HEAVILY.

New York, Dec 1--A Journal special from Pretoria via Lorenzo Marques says the British sustained an enormous loss in the battle of Madder river.

Cronje was transferred from Mafeking to command the force opposing Methuen. Commandant Lyman continues to invest Mafeking closely.

TRYING TO BLOW UP BRIDGE.

London Dec. 1—A dispatch to the Evening News from Cape Town says a force of Boers is trying to blow up the 500-feet bridge at Colenso. They were driven back by the British artillery. The dispatch indicates that Hillyard is advancing to the relief of Ladysmith. He has overcome the difficulties spread in the path of the Boers at Frere and has reached the south shore of Tagela river.

AGGY GETTING TIRED.

Is There a Sign of Weakening in this Pitiful Enemy?

By Cable to the Telegram

Hong Kong, Dec 1—Aguinaldo has communicated with the Filipino junta here asking whether he will be protected in the event of his taking refuge here, or whether the English authorities would turn him over to the custody of the United States government.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone Entertain.

Wood, Hattie and Pearl E dridge, Jennie Tatum and Susie Stone; Messrs P. D. Gold, Richard Crawford, T. J. McAdoo, Larry Matthews, Webb Reid and C. P. Younts.

Only thirty days more in which to avail yourself of the immense bargains we now offer.

AN INTERESTING GAME.

Neither Side Scored in the Football Game Here Yesterday.

The game of football at the athletic park yesterday afternoon between the North and south Greensboro teams, was an interesting and exciting contest and immensely enjoyed by the large number of football cranks who witnessed the battle. The two teams are pretty evenly matched as is evidenced by the score.

The southside eleven has possibly a slight advantage in weight, and experienced no apparent trouble at any time in making good gains through their opponents' line and around ends.

The features of the game were the long runs by H. Reynolds and the tackling of Jack Love, while Bob Wharton, Luke Andrews and Joe Causey played the game for the northside.

The gate receipts amounted to about $45, which will go to the equipment and perfection of the Gate City Band.

GAME IN DETAIL.

Northside wins the toss and defends the south goal. H. Reynolds kicked off to northside's 15-yard line and Andrews advances 5 yards. In the second rush northside fumbles and Ingram falls on the ball. Ingram makes 5 yards around right end and southside makes steady gains to northside's 10-yard line and then loses ball on downs. Causey punts 30 yards to C. Mendenhall who advances 5 yards. H. Reynolds makes 3 yards, Patterson 3, and a fumble gives the ball to northside, who are unable to make gains through southside's line and Andrews makes 5 yards around left end. Wharton loses 1 yard, Andrews loses 1 yard and Causey punts 30 yards then gets ball and advances 10 yards. Time is called for first half, score 0 to 0.

After 10 minutes rest Causey kicks off 30 yards to Love, who advances 15 yards, and then follows a series off rushes in which southside loses ball on fumble. Causey gains 2 yards, then 1 yard and the ball goes over to southside on downs. H. Reynolds makes a 20 yard run and then 7 and southside backs make steady gains over tackles. Offside play, south ide is given 10 yards. H. Reynolds makes 2 yards, Patterson 8, and H. Reynolds 7. Ball goes over to northside on downs on northside's 10-yard line. Wharton fails to gain through tackle. Andrews makes 5 yards around left end and Wharton 2 around right end.

The last half ends with ball on northside's 17-yard line. The score 0 to 0.

The two teams lined up as follows:

Northside.		Southside.
Rankin (Pearce)	right end	Sergeant.
Turner	right tackle	McNairy
Coffin	right guard	E Mendenhall
Rees	center	Phillips
Matthews	left guard	Patterson
Lewis (Simon)	left tackle	W Reynolds
Ridge	quarter back	Love
Wharton	r half back	Ingram
Andrews	l half back	H Reynolds
Causey	full back	C Mendenhall

Referee, Garland Daniel. Umpire, C. G. Wright. Time-keepers, Harper Lindsay and Prof. R. Wilson. Linesmen, Will Glascock and J. A. Logan.

The halves were 20 minutes and 15 minutes.

THE STATE NORMAL AFFAIR

The Wells on the Premises Found to Contain the Fever's Cause.

DR. LEWIS DEFENDS DR. M'IVER.

Statement of Mr. Mebane, Ex-Officio President of the Board of College Directors.

There have been two deaths at the State Normal and Industrial College since our last issue, making a total of six at the college and one student who died at her home in Leaksville.

Miss Fannie Turner, the matron of the college, succumbed to the ravages of the fever Wednesday night at 6:35 o'clock. She was well and favorably known in this city and her demise will be greatly deplored. She had an attack of chills and fever last summer, and about two weeks ago suffered a relapse, which proved fatal. The remains were carried to Hillsboro yesterday for interment.

Miss Flora McGoogan, one of the students who contracted the fever and had been ill for about three weeks, passed away early yesterday morning. Her home was in Robeson county and the remains were carried home at noon yesterday for burial. Miss McGoogan was a most estimable young woman and all of her acquaintances were her friends. Her death removes one who held the confidence and esteem of all who knew her.

THE SICK IMPROVING.

The general condition of the other patients at the Normal today is reported improved and some of the sick are convalescing.

IMPURE WATER CAUSES THE FEVER

It now seems as if the real cause of the outbreak of typhoid fever at the State Normal and Industrial College has been discovered.

Last evening President Chas. D. McIver, of the college, received a telegram from Dr. Albert Anderson, of Wilson, who has been making a bacteriological examination of the drinking water with a view to locating the cause for the fever.

Dr. Anderson wires that he has been making a bacteriological examination of sample A, from the well at the Teague dormitory, and sample C, from the central well which is between the two brick buildings. The water in both of these wells, especially the last named, he finds to be bad from a bacteriological standpoint. In other words, the two wells are infected with typhoid germs, and as water was used from these wells for drinking purposes by all the pupils, the cause for the epidemic of fever is now known.

The trouble is therefore easily remedied, viz., by filling up the wells and using the city water, which has undergone four tests and been found to be healthy.

The sample B, from the well used by the practice school, also sample D, which is the city water, have both been pronounced pure by Dr. Anderson.

A full written report is expected here tonight from Dr. Anderson, and when it arrives a full report touching the fever outbreak and its cause will be made.

DR. LEWIS TALKS.

Dr. R. H. Lewis, secretary of the state board of health, who returned to Raleigh last night, made the following statement:

"I want to say that many of the rumors that have been sent out from Greensboro in regard to the outbreak are unfounded, and all criticisms of Dr. McIver are unjust. He has done all in his power to discover the cause of the sickness and he could not have suspected the presence of the cause before the outbreak."

MR. MEBANE'S STATEMENT.

Dr. R. H. Lewis, secretary of the state board of health, was this morning appointed by the board of directors of the State Normal and Industrial College to make an official statement to the press as to the result of the meetings held here for the last few days; but Hon. C. H. Mebane, ex-officio president of the board of directors, makes the following statement for the information of the people of Greensboro:

The board met, first, to find the cause or causes of the recent outbreak of malarial and typhoid fever. Second, to remove the cause or causes in order that the institution may reopen at the earliest date possible.

The board received and considered a report from Dr. R. H. Lewis, secretary of the state board of health, and also a report from Dr. J. L. Ludlow, sanitary engineer and expert. Both of these gentlemen made personal inspections of the buildings and grounds.

The board finding that they could not get before them for several days all their expert testimony, and being unable and unwilling to assign a cause in the absence of complete evidence, decided to adjourn until this evidence can be put before them.

The board will spare no labor or expense to seek and find the real cause or causes of this trouble, and will meet again just as soon as possible after the result of the scientific investigations are received.

The board most heartily endorses the management of President McIver and his faithful faculty during the trying ordeal through which they are passing, and can find no cause for criticism of the management of the institution either before or since the out break of this epidemic.

Parents and relations of those who have been sick addressed a communication to the board of directors on yesterday, assuring them that they are thoroughly satisfied with and profoundly grateful for the kindness and attention of the college authorities, the physicians and the trained nurses of the college, and expressed their appreciation of the work of those women of the city who have so kirdly volunteered their services as nurses.

[The above statement was made by Mr. Mebane on yesterday and would have appeared yesterday but for the fact that no paper was published, it being Thanksgiving Day. A message was received last night from Dr. Anderson stating that the water was bad His report in full is expected tonight]

STATEMENT OF PHYSICIANS.

To the Board of Directors:

Gentlemen—After a careful examination of the records and patient review of the history of the sickness at the State Normal and Industrial College since October 2d, we find that there have been two distinct epidemics. The first, beginning about October 25, purely malarial in character; the second, beginning in the second week of November, distinctly typhoid, though complicated in one-third of the cases with malaria.

There have been in all about one hundred cases. Of these seventy per cent. were primarily malarial and sixty per cent. malarial only, all recovering in from four to ten days.

Of the remaining forty per cent., ten per cent., after having had malaria, were infected with the typhoid poison, while the remaining thirty per cent. seem to have been primary typhoid infection. In view of the severity of the typhoid poison, it is surprising that so small a percentage of the students were infected.

STATEMENT OF RELATIVES.

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 29.

To the Board of Directors:

We, the undersigned, relatives and friends of the patients who have been and are now sick at the State Normal and Industrial College, desire to express our gratitude to the college authorities for the manner in which our loved ones have been cared for.

Having been here, some of us since before the college suspended and others for a shorter period of time, we wish to say that it seems to us that all that could be expected has been done by the college authorities, faculty, physicians and the nurses: and we are also deeply grateful to those ladies of Greensboro who have tendered and given their services as nurses of the sick.

A BEAUTIPUL CEREMONY.

Wedding of W. A. Devin and Miss Virginia Bernard.

One of the most impressively beautiful weddings of the season was that of Miss Virginia Bernard, daughter of Capt. and Mrs Thomas Bernard, and Mr. William A. Devin, of Oxford, which was solemnized at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday night at the residence of the bride's parents on Asheboro street.

Only the relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties were present, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. J D. D. Miller, rector of St. Andrew's church.

The parlor in which the marriage took place was beautifully and artistically decorated with ivy, bamboo and chrysanthemums.

The bride wore a beautiful white silk gown and carried a handsome boquet. Miss Imogene Bernard, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. W. W. Vass, of Raleigh, acted as best man.

A slendid reception followed the ceremony and the happy couple left on the 11:43 train for a bridal trip to northern cities.

To undertake to describe the numerous and elegant presents to Mr and Mrs. Devin would require a better knowledge of such things than most men possess.

The bride is a highly cultured and accomplished young lady and possesses the qualifications that have won for her a large circle of friends here.

The groom is a prominent young business man of Oxford and is well-known in Greensboro, having resided here a few years ago.

The following were among the guests from a distance: Misses Sallie and Mary Meade Bernard, of Petersburg, Va., Mrs. Cannada and Mrs. Webb, of Oxford, and Georgs Stephens, of Charlotte.

THIRTY PIANOS GOING

To be Sold Tomorrow Morning at Factory Cost

AT 217 SOUTH ELM STREET

Sale Will Last Ten Days—No Longer
Lend Me Your Ear and You May Have Sweet Sounds.

To those who may be interested in the purchase of a piano: I have an unusual proposition to place before you—one that has never been made to the general public in Greensboro before and may never be made again It is a plain business proposition, and we are quite sure it will meet the approval of all who contemplate buying a piano It is this: We desire our pianos to be well known in this and surrounding cities. We propose they shall be. We know they are as good as money and brains can produce and of the very highest possible grade. We want you to know it. To see them, to test their tone, touch, and mechanism will convince. We point to our pianos, the pianos we will offer you, with pride, and ask any one to criticise them, to find one weak point

We are here for a short time only to thoroughly introduce our instruments, and in order to do so will place 30 where they will do the most good—in homes in this city and vicinity. We are aware that it will take heroic measures to accomplish this in so short a time, but as an inducedducement will mark them at just factory wholesale cost, merely adding freigh and drayage. We are convinced by past experience that where once used a demand for them is created, and as we are the manufacturers, having no agent here, can offer you a piano from the maker to the buyer at one profit. The large stock selected for this introductory sale was shipped here in carload lots. No salesmen are employed; no commissions are paid to agents, canvassers or music teachers; in fact every item of expense usually added to cost of a piano, which the purchaser pays, is shut off.

Quoting from a well known musical journal published in New York city: "It does not need a great deal of argument to show that in all human industry the great item of expense is not so much the cost of production as it is the cost of bringing the goods to market and then to the home of the consumer. Who has not heard the statement that it costs as much to sell a piano as to make it?"

In buying a piano at this introductory sale you simply step in on the ground floor and shut off all profit and expense usually added to the cost of an instrument. You buy direct of the manufacturer, when he is willing to sell you at factory wholesale cost in order to introduce his goods. The sale begins tomorrow, December 2nd, at 217 S Elm street, and lasts ten days—no longer. We give facts and name the prices. We are pleased if you are particular, and if we cannot save you from $100 to $300 in the purchase of a high grade piano will not ask you to buy.

We cannot quote prices on all the pianos offered, but as an example of how they are marked we quote the following:

A grand piano in an upright case, highest possible grade, and retails in any market for $500. This case is double veneered on hard wood, Circassian, Italian or Burl walnut, English oak or San Domingo mahogany, extension music desk, roll fallboard, elegantly hand-carved raised panels; largest size $289 to $294. The same piano as above described except medium size. Elegant raised panels in Circassian walnut, English oak or mahogany for $258; $400 pianos for $226; $425 pianos, with harp or mandolin attachment for $248.

Pianos that are sold by agents and dealers for $200 to $225, are marked $96.

The above prices are for pianos only, but delivered anywhere in the city.

Stools and scarfs will be furnished at cost prices, as follows: Best stools, $1 50 each. Fine scarfs, $2 each. Each and every piano offered at this sale is brand new and fully warranted.

Terms, $25 cash and $10 per month buys any piano in the wareroom; $20 cash and $8 per month, buys many of them. Six per cent. interest will be charged on all deferred payments. No discount for cash, except saving of interest. I will ship pianos to reliable customers in neighboring towns on above terms. If interested put $25 in your pocket and call early tomorrow morning for choice of bargains. C. Jellisco, Factory Agent, 217 S. Elm street, Greensboro, N. C. Open evenings.

A Sharper Caught.

A negro named Charles Wade is now in jail as a result of what he thought was a slick game. About ten days ago he presented himself to Richard DeButts, at the passenger depot, and said that his name was Tom Wade and claimed the wages due him. There was a check for Tom Wade and Mr. DeButts paid the negro the amount, which was $25 03. A day or two later the real Tom Wade showed up and Mr. DeButts had to pay him also. The matter was reported to Detective Greer, of the Southern, who worked up the case and a warrant was sworn out for Charles Wade yesterday and Officer Pearce arrested him. His trial is set for tomorrow morning before Squire Pritchett.

Died of Heart Disease.

The funeral takes place at 10 o'clock from his mother's residence at 410 East Market street and interment will be made at Greene Hill cemetary. Deceased was a most excellent young man and the bereaved ones have the sympathy of the entire community.

IT'S PRETTY GOOD.

The poet laureate of England has recently taken the friendship of America for the mother country for his theme. Following are the last two stanzas of the production:

"With her foam steeds fleet,
I guess she's a match for you all.
She hath saddled the sea, and more firm her seat
Than yours that would ride for a fall
If you put all your fighting force afield, and charged at her watery wall.

"But if ever, hemmed in by wall of foes,
Her sinews were sorely tried,
By the self-same blood in our veins that flows,
You would find me at her side
So long as she strikes for the cause for which her sons and my sons have died"

The Norfolk Landmark says, speaking of this poem, "We venture to say that if Alf were to conceal his name, he could not get that thing published as poetry in the Digger News or the Oklahoma Tom Cat."

Blood is thicker than water. We may not sympathize with England while she oppresses the Boers, yet when they begin to talk about double-teaming on the old lady we all naturally feel a certain tingling in our veins which Alf's lines have the power to arouse, notwithstanding the Landmark's sarcasm. A poem is poetry these days, we believe, in the ratio of its power to excite any of the inner emotions, even when imagination and rythm are not called into play.

Yesterday noon a hushed throng waited at the depot here for the trains to come in and bear two silent forms away to their saddened homes. Inside the depot they lay in their caskets—young, beautiful, but clasped in the cold arms of death. They were the latest victims of the Normal scourge. It was a most sad sight, and how crushing to think of a household's joy coming back to it as a Thanksgiving offering, dead!

Yesterday was a fine day for the football games about this and other states. The University boys nobly bore away the palm from Georgia's University, Oak Ridge defeated the A. & M. in grand style, and there were other contests of more or less importance. At the park in this city a lively game was played but neither side scored.

MR. ADAIR HURT.

He Falls Between Two Moving Box Cars, but is Not Seriously Injured.

About seven o'clock Wednesday evening Yardmaster C. J. Adair, of the Southern, met with a serious accident, in which he he had a narrow escape from death.

He was on top of a string of box cars that were being shifted near the coal chute and in attempting to step from one car to another his foot slipped and he fell down between the cars.

Fortunately for him he succeeded in catching on the drawhead and holding until the train was brought to a standstill. Mr. Adair was considerably bruised about the head and shoulders, but did not sustain any serious injury. He will be confined to his home for several days.

Reece-Hume Nuptials.

A telegram received here yesterday morning announced the marriage at Virginia Beach Wednesday evening of Miss Susie Reece, of this city, to Mr. A. G. Hume, a successful merchant of Norfolk. The marriage was a complete surprise to the bride's many friends in this city. The bride is the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Reece, of this city, and has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank P. Morton at Virginia Beach for about two months. She is a highly accomplished young lady and quite popular in the social circles of Greensboro. She was a member of that unique organization, the Bachelor Girls, and is the second member to be married. Mr. and Mrs. Hume will reside in Norfolk.

Miss Witherspoon Entertains.

Miss Sarah Witherspoon entertained the Annie Patterson Missionary Society of Westminster church and a few friends at her hospitable home on Asheboro street last night. Delicious refreshments were served at ten o'clock and all who attended report a delightful time.

CAUCUSES MEET TOMORROW

Both Democrats and Republicans at Washington Astir.

AGAINST CONGRESS' OPENING

The Democratic Contest for the Minority Speakership is Lively and Interesting.

Special to The Telegram.

Washington, Dec. 1—Both the republican and democratic caucuses will assemble tomorrow. The republican caucus will meet at 8 p. m., and the democratic caucus will assemble at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Far more interest has been manifested in the democratic caucus than in the republican, owing to the contest over the question of the minority leadership. The prospects seem to be that either Richardson, of Tennessee, will be nominated on the first or second ballot, or else the caucus will be deadlocked for several hours, in which event the chances for Bankhead's selection will be excellent, or a compromise candidate may be agreed upon. Among those mentioned as possible compromise candidates are Catchings, of Mississippi, Bailey, of Texas, Clayton, of Alabama, and many others. It is not likely that there will be a choice on the first ballot, as many states will wish to give the favorite sons of their respective delegations a complimentary vote. It is likely therefore that on the first ballot a dozen or more names may appear among those voted for. The Bailey men insist that the Texan will not accept the leadership, even if it is tendered to him by the caucus, but from developments during the past few days this is doubted by the friends of many of the other candidates, and they are keeping a strict watch on Bailey's movements. Mr. Bailey is for Bankhead, and will vote for him in the caucus, but it will be difficult for him to carry many of his friends with him, as most of them are divided among the other candidates.

The republican caucus aside from the contest over the sergeant-at-arms, will be devoid of interest. Mr. Russell, the present incumbent is making a strong fight for re-election, but his chances for receiving the majority of the caucus do not seem very bright.

Senator and Mrs. Thurston are expected to reach Washington Sunday, and they will remain here during the session of congress. It is expected that they will take a prominent part in the social festivities of the national capital during the coming winter.

The president's message will be given out Monday night to newspaper correspondents entitled to same. The document will be several thousand words longer, it is said, than the document last year. President McKinley spent Thanksgiving Day quietly at the white house, and as he was uninterrupted by the usual callers he found time to get in several hours work on the document, which is considered one of the most important of recent years. The document will be practically finished by Sunday night, and if it were not for the fact that congress organizes on that day, it could be given out then, in time to be read in the senate on Monday.

Several leaders of the republican party in congress called at the white house the other day for the purpose of requesting President McKinley to withhold sending his message to congress until Tuesday noon.

It is said that Hon. John W. Atwater, congressman-elect from the Raleigh, North Carolina district will enter the democratic caucus. Mr. Atwater is a populist, but will vote with the democrats on the question of the organization of the house, and also with the democracy on all leading political questions of a strict party nature. Mr. Atwater is said to be opposed to the seating of Representative-elect Roberts, of Utah, and to be prepared to make an objection to his taking the oath of office, in case no one else takes the initiative.

Mrs. Frances Halliday, of Fort Moultry, South Carolina, is visiting friends in Washington. She will be here for some time, being the guest of Mrs. Samuel Estes, a resident of the national capital.

Postoffice at Belfast, Laurens county, South Carolina, has been moved into Newberry county. Thomas J. Davenport has been commissioned postmaster.

Purifying the Air.

It is found in many factories that the hands do much more work in a given time if they have good air to breathe. Some firms have quite elaborate provisions for the purifying of the atmosphere of the workrooms.

In the absence of these a simple plan is to put a spoonful of oil of turpentine into a liter bottle of well water, shake it well, and then blow it about the room through an atomizer. An improvement is to mix a few drops of acetate ether with the turpentine.—St. Louis Republic.

Thou-ing.

To persons of lesser rank one saith "You," without thou-ing anybody, be it not some little child, and that thou wert much more aged and that the custome itself amongst the meer courteous and better bred were to speak in such manner. What concerneth familiar friends, amongst them the custome doth comport in certain places that they "Thou" one another more freely, in other places one's more reserved.—"Youths' Behavior," 1652.

Wasted.

"I didn't know you were so sarcastic when I married you."

"Did you not? Possibly you have forgotten I said, 'This is so sudden,' when you proposed after four years' courtship."—Collier's Weekly.

If two tuning forks of the same pitch are placed facing each other, the one sounding, the other silent, in a few seconds the one which was silent will be giving out a distinctly audible sound.

Always put off until tomorrow any evil you can do today.—Somerville Journal.

The Poet Burns,

Not the least of the advantages attending life assurance is the serenity of mind which attends the provident man lying on a bed of sickness, or when he is in prospect of death—so unlike that painful anxiety for the future welfare of the family not provided for. The poet Burns, in writing to a friend a few days before his death, said that he was "still the victim of affliction. Alas! Clark, I begin to fear the worst. Burns' poor widow and a half a dozen of his dear little ones, helpless orphans; there, I am weak as a woman's tear. Enough of this, 'tis half of my disease!"

"If you would escape the rock upon which the lamented Burns split;" take shelter from the storm that is bound to spend its fury upon you when the fatal summons comes, by at once securing the magnetic contract offered by the Provident Savings.

Two Robberies.

It seems that hunry thieves were out on a rampage Wednesday night. Some time during the night the grocery store of Thomas Carroll, corner of Lee and Ashe streets, was broken open and the culprit confiscated a large quantity of flour, meal, lard, cigars, coffee, etc. The police have no clue as to the identity of the guilty party.

The pantry of C. L. Lamb was also entered Wednesday night and a good supply of provisions stolen. The thief also raided Mr. Lamb's kitchen, but did not swipe anything from this room.

The "terrible" pantry thief has not yet been apprehended.

Called Home Yesterday.

Early Feimster, clerk at W. L. Wharton's grocery store, was called to his home at Connelly Springs yesterday by a telegram announcing the death of his brother, Baxter. The particulars of his death were not given in the telegram. Deceased is a nephew of Messrs. C. M. and C. P. Vanstory, of this city.

At Gospel Tabernacle.

Rev. S. C. Todd and Rev. M. Cadding, eight years a missionary to Africa, will arrive in the city this evening, and Mr. Cadding will preach at the Gospel Tabernacle tonight. On Saturday and Sunday there will be two or three services a day, conducted by these ministers at the Tabernacle. The hours will be announced at the meeting tonight. All are cordially invited to attend.

"STOP THIEF!"

It is an old trick among the light-fingered fraternity to divert attention from themselves by raising the cry of "stop thief" and so putting the public on a false scent.

There is a certain kind of advertiser who is expert in similar methods. One of his tricks is to tell women that it's "revolting" to write to a man in consultation about disease. "Women should write to a woman." The remainder of the advertisement invites women to write for advice, and is carefully worded to convey the idea that the advice offered is that of a physician. But a close examination shows that there is no physician's advice offered and the whole clamor of "write to a woman" is raised to divert attention from the fact that the woman offering advice is not a doctor, and therefore not competent to give medical advice:

For the advice of an unqualified woman is just as dangerous as the advice of an unqualified man.

Women who are sick can obtain medical advice free by letter, by consulting Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. As an expert in the treatment and cure of female diseases Dr. Pierce takes the highest rank. In over thirty years' experience he has treated ba[illegible]-million women and of that great number ninety-eight per cent. have been perfectly and permanently cured. Each case is held as private and its contents guarded as a sacred confidence.

ADDRESS OF WARNING

In Regard to the Outbreak of Smallpox at Tar Cotta.

North Carolina, Guilford county.

Whereas, it has come to the knowledge of the authorities of Guilford county that there is an epidemic of smallpox at Terra Cotta Works in said county, and whereas, it is made the duty of said authorities to warn all citizens of the county and persons generally of the said epidemic and to urge upon all persons the importance of immediate vaccination in order that a scourge of that disease may be averted,

Now therefore, we the board of county commissioners and county superintendent of health of said county most earnestly urge upon all persons the wisdom and the duty of being vaccinated at once. Should the disease spread and the people neglect this warning and request, it may become necessary for us in compliance with law, and in order to prevent a devastating epidemic of this terrible disease, to order compulsory vaccination.

Eczema! The Only Cure.

Eczema is more than a skin disease, and no skin remedies can cure it. The doctors are unable to effect a cure, and their mineral mixtures are damaging to the most powerful constitution. The whole trouble is in the blood, and Swift's Specific is the only remedy which can reach such deep-seated blood diseases.

Eczema broke out on my daughter, and continued to spread until her head was entirely covered. She was treated by several good doctors, but grew worse, and the dreadful disease spread to her face. She was taken to two celebrated health springs, but received no benefit. Many patent medicines were taken, but without result, until we decided to try S. S. S., and by the time the first bottle was finished, her head began to heal. A dozen bottles cured her completely and left her skin perfectly smooth. She is now sixteen years old, and has a magnificent growth of hair. Not a sign of the dreadful disease has ever returned.

Don't expect local applications of soaps and salves to cure Eczema. They reach only the surface, while the disease comes from within. Swift's Specific

A SUPERB CONCERT.

To be Given at the Academy Monday Night.

A concert of unusual interest was given last night by the New York Ladies's Trio and Lilian Carlsmith, in the Jefferson Hotel ballroom, under the auspices of the Ladies' Matinee Musicals. Their selections were from the works of modern schools as well as the masters. The solo performances of each were singularly clever and brilliant, and their phrasing and technic were worthy of respect and admiration.

Miss Carrlsmith, the contralto, was dedided at home in the pretty ballads, in which she was heard to great advantage, and whose rich contralto voice was exceedingly sweet and expressive.

The numbers given by the trio, piano, violin and 'cello, were handled with a skill, a finish and a taste that showed each performer to be a thoroughly capable musician. They played with much unity and with a force that would have done justice to a much larger orchestra.—The Richmond Dispatch, December 1, 1898.

The Chappy's Complaint.

When a chappy thinks he's going at an up-to-datish clip,
And seeks the pleasant draughts of life
from which to take a sip;
When youthful blood is flowing through his veins at fever heat,
And all the world appears to him completeness most complete.
It always takes him down, Baw Jove!
to hear somebody shout:
"Little chicken, does your incubator know that you are out?"
Cluck! Cluck!
Cluck! Cluck!

You may wear the most foot-ballish hair that mortal youth can get,
And puff the noisiest vapors from the cutest cigarette;
Your cane may be a lallaloo, your necktie sweetly red;
The cunningest of chapeaux may adorn your lovely head,
But the combination crashes when you hear somebody shout:
"Little chicken, does your incubator
know that you are out?"
Cluck! Cluck!
Cluck! Cluck!

You ask the fairest damsel in the world if she will go
To see the play, performance, entertainment or the show;
She says, "I'll be delighted!" and you're walking on the air;
You're in the seventh heaven of delight
till nearly there
You hear a horrid whisper from the rabble and the rout:
"Little chicken, does your incubator know that you are out?"
Cluck! Cluck!
Cluck! Cluck!

Why can't a cunning chappy wear the clothes he thinks are cute?
If he cawn't give checks to tailors,
cawn't he have them in his suit?
Why should those common creatures on the sidewalks stop and stare?
I feel that I could slap them on the wrists—I could, so there!
And I feel like saying "Dammit!"
when they laugh before they shout:
Little chicken, does your incubator
know that you are out!"
Cluck! Cluck!
Cluck! Cluck!

A SURE CURE FOR CROUP.

Twenty-five Years' Constant Use Without a Failure.

The first indication of croup is hoarseness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land and never disappoints the anxious mothers. We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it has not proved effectual. No other preparation can show such a record—twenty-five years' constant use without a failure. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Lippincott's Plates Saved.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 30—It was learned today that with few exceptions the valuable electrotype plates stored in vaults in the J. B. Lippincott Company's building were not damaged by the fire which yesterday destroyed that publishing house.

Secretary Mortimer, of the company, said that this means a salvage of between $100,000 and $150,000. With these plates saved, the loss on the contents of the building may be rightly estimated at $300,000. The building is valued at $150,000.

The only plates of importance that were in actual service and were destroyed are not numerous. Among them are Dacosta's "Diagnosis" and Anne Hollingsworth's "Salons Colonial and Republican."

No More Saw Edges

on your collars and cuffs. Saw edges have long been a bugbear to laundrymen, but at last the evil has been overcome by the invention of a machine to iron the edges as well as the surface. This is one of our latest purchases in the way of new machinery. We will have more to speak about as soon as we get our building completed.

THANKSGIVING.

Impressive Services in Observance of the Day.

Greensboro observed Thanksgiving yesterday. It was a holiday for all classes of people, and a day of worship in several of the churches of the city.

Most of the business houses were closed and our business men with their families attended these services yesterday morning and gave thanks to the Giver of every good and perfect gift.

At the close of each of these services a collection was taken for some orphanage; and, be it said to the credit of the various congregations, the collection in every instance amounted to a handsome sum.

The congregations of the First Presbyterian and West Market churches worshipped in West Market church. The spacious church was crowded, every seat being occupied. The music was excellent, the congregation joining in the hymns.

The sermon was preached by Dr. E. W. Smith. It was an able and strong gospel sermon, full of happy illustrations, and delivered with Dr. Smith's usual impressiveness. The large congregation heard the sermon with profound interest and was greatly pleased. It tended to strengthen faith and to teach gratitude.

The Presbyterian collection was taken for Barium Springs orphanage, and the Methodist collection for the Oxford Orphan Asylum.

Revs. Frank H. Wood, P. J. Carraway and J. C. Rowe assisted in the service.

The churches of South Greensboro united in a Thanksgiving service at the Friends' church. Centenary, Grace, Westminster and Friends' congregations all united in the service.

Rev. T. E. Wagg preached a powerful sermon and held the closest attention of the entire congregation.

The choirs of the four churches impressively rendered some appropriate music and the service tended to uplift and elevate the benevolent spirit of everyone. At the conclusion of the sermon a collection was taken for the unfortunate orphans of the state.

Appropriate Thanksgiving services were held at St. Andrews and St Barnabas churches and large crowds attended. At the conclusion of the services offerings for the Thompson orphanage, near Charlotte, and contributions for the poor were received.

Thanksgiving Dinners.

The hotels of the city yesterday set tables tempting enough to callepicures from the shades of the land of turkey and cranberry sauce. A Telegram man had the pleasure of dining at the hospitable Allen House, where the menu was par excellence.

DUKES, CONES AND MEBANES

Buy the Piedmont Springs—Bringing Out of a Great Country.

The following is taken from the Danbury Reporter, and means that the bringing out of the Danbury section—a country as rich in minerals, timbers and health-giving waters as any in the state—is but a question of a few months, as these men who have purchased this valuable property have the money, and, in all probability, the inclination, to make the improvements that will place Piedmont the equal of any watering place and summer and winter resort in the south:

The article follows:

George W. Hinshaw, of Winston, secretary and treasurer of the Piedmont Springs Stock Co., came up Tuesday. He was looking after the surveying of the Piedmont Springs property, which is going on this week, preparatory to making the recent purchasers of the property a deed. Mr. Hinshaw stated to one of our townsmen that the property had been sold to the Dukes, of Durham, and the Cones and Mebanes, of Greensboro.

Oak Ridge 10; A. & M. College 0.

In a hotly contested game of football at Raleigh yesterday the Oak Ridge Institute team defeated the A. & M. College eleven by a score of 10 to 0. This places the Oak Ridge team next to University. The feature of the game was the run of 40 yards by Bennettt, of Oak Ridge. Attendance, 1000.

Now is your chance for cheap millinery. Our entire stock will be greatly reduced after December 1st. This is no catch but facts. Rosa Hamner Carter. 29 nov 3t

Don't think because we have advertised and talked about men's $3 50 and $3 00 shoes so much lately that we don't sell cheaper ones. We would like to show you our McKay sewed Vici Kid shoes, full leather lined, made on the new English and London lasts and sold at $2.25. You will wonder how such an excellent wearing and good looking shoe can be sold for such a price.
